

Bonjour, Mr. Cannon:

The court has spoken loudly and clearly; it is now up to YOU and your government to ensure compliance with the court order to bring Abousfian Abdelrazik home to Canada without any further delay or excuses. It is urgent that you issue Mr. Abdelrazik the emergency passport ordered by the Federal Court and that you arrange transportation for his return to Montreal within thirty days -- the sooner the better.

As you know, citizens from across Canada have purchased a ticket for Mr. Abdelrazik for 12 June. This may be one way to bring him home promptly. However, if the government chooses to act more promptly, how much better it would be for this man who has been made to suffer seriously and unnecessarily because of your actions in his regard.

Please let me know what you plan to do to comply with the court order.

Abby Lippman, PhD